DR. ALDERMAN LAST NIGHT.

Only a Small Crowd Heard Him at The Court House.

The attendance at the court house last night to hear president Alderman lecture on "Egypt and the Nile" was painfully small for an event of the kind. There were not over a hundred people present. It clearly demonstrates the fact that the court house is no fit place for such an exent. Twice the number would have him had the lecture been in the Academy of Music.

However, the small crowd was greatly delighted and highly entertained with the lecture and the lecturer. Dr. Alderman is always interesting and eloquent in his public addresses, and last night was no exception to the rule. His description of the land of Egypt and the river Nile, from a historical standpoint was augmented by a rich fund of personal knowledge gained during his recent trip abroad.

The lecture was delivered for the benefit of the Greensboro Public Library fund, and it is a matter of regret that so small a sum was realized.

THE SOUTHERN'S NEW ENGINES.

One of the Monsters Run Here From Spencer Yesterday.

One of the large passenger engines recently ordered by the Southern has been completed and was fired up for the first time yesterday and run from Spencer to Greensboro and back on a trial trip. This is the largest passenger engine ever run in the south and as the monster locomotive stood at the depot last night getting ready to run back to Spencer, it attracted a large crowd of spectators. The weight of the engine alone is 158,000 pounds, and the combined weight of the engine and tender is 218,000 pounds—109 tons. The driving wheels are 6 feet 2 inches high, with driving rods of proportionate size. There is no larger passenger engine in the world.

The locomotive was engineered on its trial trip by Travelling Road Foreman J. W. Kendall, of the Southern, assisted by a representative of the factory. The Southern will run three of these engines on the fast trains between Washington and Monroe. They will be fitted with electric headlights and electric lights in the cab and under the boiler.

Plan of Choral Union.

At the closing of Woody Bros.' singing class the members organized themselves into a choral union, electing Dr. J. T. Johnson, president; Mr. Royal Farrar, secretary, and Mr. Chas. Burton, treasurer.

I was asked to be musical director of the union, and though I make no especial claims to being a singing master, believing it to be a good move, I consented. Our idea is to have a permanent singing society to meet once a week during the school year. We wish especially to get the support and interest of the members of the old choral society and of all the organists and choirs and Sunday School leaders in the city. We wish to appoint two or three pianists so that there will always be one present. We will devote an hour to regular chorus practice, the study of some oratorio or cantata. But in addition to this we will have an half hour, probably the first of the evening devoted to rudiments of music and sight singing. We want to develop those who do not read music and do in the right way. Of course it will take a little money to run the thing and we have figured on 25c per month each for the ten school months in the year. The practice night and all other matters will be decided by vote of the society. We expect to get both pleasure and profit out of it, and ask you to join us. Next practice, tomorrow night, Saturday at 7:30 o'clock at the music hall.

Chas. J. Brockmann, director.

A Pretty Sign.

One of the handsomest signs that adorns a window in our city is that recently put on the large window of Mr. S. Schiffman's jewelry store. It is a work of art and is a credit to the workman, no less than to Mr. Schiffman. The sign is in keeping with the stock of beautiful goods. Besides a large stock of diamonds, watches and jewelry, Mr. Schiffman carries one of the largest and most beautiful lines of silverware to be fonnd in the city.

A Unique Attraction.

One of the most unique and attractive advertisements we have ever seen is the display made by Brown Bros. Co., of Winston. It is an arrangement of pasteboard tobacco boxes printed in attractive colors, of their choice brands of plug tobacco and cigarettes; but what catches everybody is a revolving disk on which four pretty little educated mice play. Call at Lindau's and see it in the front window.

RUSSELL IN WASHINGTON.

The Governor Beards The Lion in His Lair.

AFTER THE STATE'S WAR CLAIM.

His Excellency at The War Department This Morning—Other Washington City Matters.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 10—Governor Daniel L. Russell, of North Carolina arrived here last night. He was at the war department this morning. His business at the National Capital is for the purpose of conferring with government officials with regard to the claims of the state against the federal government for expenses incurred in equipping federal troops—the North Carolina volunteers in the recent Spanish war. It is understood the state's claim amounts to $24,000.

While here the governor may also confer with senators and representatives with regard to other matters of interest to North Carolina.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

Washington, Dec. 10—An adjourned democratic caucus has been called for tonight. Notice has been sent to democrats calling attention to the fact that the caucus adjourned last June to meet this evening. Many house democrats expressed indifference concerning the meeting. Others openly declared their disapproval on the ground that it is one of Congressman Bailey's moves respecting the leadership. Swanson says Bailey will have a large majority.

WINSTON'S MAYOR DEAD.

Col A. B. Gorrell Dies Suddenly of Heart Disease.

The Telegram is pained to learn of the death of Col. A. B. Gorrell, mayor of Winston, which comes to us in the following special taken from the Raleigh Morning Post this morning:

Winston, N. C., Dec. 9—Colonel Albert B. Gorrell, mayor of Winston, died at 7:15 tonight. He was taken ill at 5 o'clock this afternoon. He was one of Winston's leading citizens and best business men. The news of his death has cast a gloom over the entire city. He was about sixty years old. For several years he has conducted a tobacco warehouse here. He was public spirited and aggressive. He was a brave Confederate soldier during the civil war. He leaves a wife and four children, one son being associated with the father in the warehouse business.

DESTRUCTION OF THE MAINE.

The Imparcial Charges The Crime to The United States.

Madrid, Dec. 9—The Imparcial today publishes another inflammatory article on the subject of the Maine charges. The paper intimates that the explosion was the outcome of an intense desire "upon the part of certain factions in the United States to see the outbreak of war, which was unpopular with the majority of Americans." The Imparcial adds:

"The partisans of the war realized that something startling was necessary to arouse national sentiment—it was a remarkable chance. Almost all the Maine's officers were on board another ship at the time of the catastrophe. Those who charge the Spaniards with being capable of such a monstrous act are well capable of committing themselves."

In conclusion the Imparcial says:

"Spain cannot remain under such an infamous charge. It would be preferable to give the world the spectacle of national suicide."

STILL STICKING TO IT.

The Six Day Wheelers Nearing the Home Stretch.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Dec. 10—Twelve men still remain in the six day bicycle race; though Stevehs, Julius and Hale are in very bad condition and are simply dragging along until the finish. Miller, it is generally believed, will win, and Waller has a good lead for second place. Miller was bleeding some today. He is to be married at two o'clock. The greatest chance for a change is between Aaronson and Nawn for the seventh and eighth places. They are riding closely. If Miller sticks to his present gait he will undoubtedly break the record.

At 12:15 the score stood: Miller, 1,936; Waller, 1,897; Pierce, 1,843; Albert, 1,766; Gimm, 1,733; Miller is three miles and a half ahead of the record.

An Evening With Tennyson.

GROWTH OF THE BAPTISTS.

Delegates From The Western N C. Convention.

STATE MISSION BOARD'S REPORT

A Baptist Catechism is to Be Prepared—Rev. J. W. Carter, of Raleigh, Asked to Do The Work.

Greenville, N. C., Dec. 9—Last night witnessed the gathering of the Baptist hosts of North Carolina in annual convention within a stone's throw of the spot where the convention was organized in 1830. This is the 68th annual session of the body which has grown from a constituency of twenty thousand, with fourteen delegates, to nearly a hundred and fifty thousand, with two hundred delegates. On the name and memory of Martin Ross rests the record of the great work which the Baptists of North Carolina have done through this convention; for it was through his influence, perfecting his plans that the work was permanently organized here in Greenville, in 1830. The beautiful and imposing church building in which the convention is now being held is a memorial of the great work of the denomination, built largely by the voluntary contribution of Baptists all over the state.

The convention has comprised 44 associations until this session, when the comirg in of the Western North Carolina Convention, with its 11 associations, will swell the number to 55 associations, with 1,348 churches, besides the number brought in by the western convention.

The convention held a great session today.

After the religious exercises at 10 this morning, Rev. John E. White, secretary of the State Mission Board, read his annual report. The report included the report on Sunday schools, the work of the Woman's Central Committee and the report of the treasurer of the convention. It recited that the work during the year had been harmonious and progressive. Enlargement of the work of the convention was recommended in the various departments.

One of the things adopted by the convention in its convention in 1830 was the employment of missionaries within the limits of the state, and in keeping with this the denomination has urged forward the various departments of the work through all these years, and latterly has given special attention to mission work in the state. The basis for the work of the state mission board this year was $15,000, and secretary White's report recommended that the basis be raised to $20,000 for the coming year.

The volunteer mission movement by the pastors in various parts of the state, was referred to at some length, showing pleasing results in the following associations: Atlantic, Greenville, Chowan, Mecklenburg and Cabarrus, South Yadkin, South Fork, Raleigh and Tar River.

Stress was laid on the work of co-operation with the colored Baptists of this state assigned by the convention in 1895.

This co-operative work has been influential in maintaining harmony between the races.

The following significant paragraph is quoted from the report, touching this work:

"During the recent exciting political campaign the colored convention passed a series of resolutions aimed and calculated to hinder agitation and excitement among the colored people, calling their attention from politics to religion."

Under the report on Sunday schools reference was made to the fine development along this line of work. Sunday school chatauquas having been held at Fair Bluff, Mars Hill, Littleton and Buie's Creek. This work has been under the management and direction of Rev. B. W. Spilman, secretary of the Sunday school board of the convention. The work of the Woman's Central Committee, with Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, of Raleigh was given prominence in the report.

The sum of $6,929 25 was raised during the year by this committee for missionary purposes.

The report of Treasurer J. D. Boushall showed that the convention had raised during the year for its various objects the sum of $324,389.40. After the report was read Dr. J. M. Frost, of Nashville, Tenn., addressed the convention in the interest of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist convention. It was a masterful address and greatly stirred the convention. His reference to the book "The life of Dr. M. T. Yates," as prepared by president Taylor, of Wake Forest College, and published by the Sunday school board, took deep hold upon the convention. One of the striking features of the day was the reception of the deligates from the Western North Carolina convention, coming after resolution of that convention. A. I. Justice, A. B. Smith, W. M. Vines, and W. E. Wilkins were the delegates welcomed. They were presented by Rev. C. S. Cashwell and welcomed by Dr. C. E. Taylor.

At the afternoon session, under miscellaneous business, Rev. C. W. Scarboro introduced a resolution that the Sunday school board of the southern baptist convention publish a catechism for Sunday schools. The resolution passed and Dr. J. W. Carter, of Raleigh, was asked to prepare the catachism.

Tonight the special feature of the convention was the report of foreign missions.

The report was read by Rev. G. W. Green, retired misssionary from China. He spoke of the report, followed briefly by C. B. Justice, and then Dr. R. J. Willingham, secretary of the foreign mission board, made a great speach and swept the entire convention.

Suicide at Burlington.

Burlington, Dec. 9—Dr. A. B. Cates a prominent druggist of this place, committed suicide this morning at 11 o'clock by taking a dose of strychnine. He was in his store, taking an inventory of stock, when he walked from behind the prescription stand and fell. He told his son to let him alone, that he was dying. He was dead in five minutes from the time he swallowed the poison. He had been drinking for some time, and this, together with financial and domestic trouble, is believed to have caused him to take his life. He was about 45 years old and was highly respected. —Special to Morning Post.

Senator Quay's Trial.

Philadelphia, Dec. 9—Counsel for Senator Quay in the conspiracy charges for which he is to be tried next week, today subpoenaed ex-Common Pleas Judge James Gordon and ex-Portmaster General John Wanamaker as witnesses for the defense. This news is interesting in view of the known opposition of both of these men to Senator Quay politically, and in view of the charges recently made by Senator Penrose, in which he stated that the charges against Senator Quay were the result of a conspiracy to defeat him for re-election to the United States Senate, and in his place name a person favorable to Messrs. Wanamaker and Gordon.

AS TO IMPEACHMENT.

Much has been and is still being said about impeaching Governor Russell, and much of it is silly twaddle. Some people say don't impeach him because the lieutenant-governor is a worse man than the governor and it is better to let Russell serve out his term than to let Reynolds step into the governor's chair. Others say the governor has done nothing to warrant impeachment.

There are only two sides to this question; the governor is either liable to impeachment proceedings or he is not. If he is guilty of any acts that would sustain such proceedings he should be impeached no matter how much worse Charlie Reynolds, as he is familiarly called, might be. If he is not liable nobody need fear the attempt will be made. But we insist that it should not be put upon the ground that Reynolds is the worst man of the two. The proper and the decent thing to do would be to impeach Russell if it is RIGHT to do so and let Mr. Reynolds take the chair. Then, if he is a worse man than the Kusser, let him be impeached also.

Do you catch the point. If it is not RIGHT to impeach the governor it cannot be done. If it can be done it is RIGHT to do it. Then make short work of Reynolds if he is the worst man of the two.

In the face of the announcements that there is more work to be done at the short session of congress than can possibly be accomplished the senate branch adjourned on Thursday until Monday, and yesterday the electric wires flashed the news from end to end of the country: "Neither the senate or house is in session today." We suppose such happenings are unavoidable; but if there was a provision to stop salaries when the work stops there would be fewer "unavoidable" circumstances of that kind.

The Spaniards are still in a very bitter frame of mind over the reference by President McKinley in his message to the Maine disaster. The Spaniards took their first drink of gall when the explosion under the Maine took place. It was no doubt thought to be a nice, sweet, refreshing drink, but they know better now, we hope, with the accent on the "better."

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The next annual session of the farmers' national congress will be held at Boston.

Overcome evil with good. Overcome your coughs and colds with One Minute Cough Cure. It is so good children cry for it. It cures croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe, and all throat and lung diseases. Howard Gardner.

Close friends of Governor Pingree, of Michigan, expect him to run for the presidency in 1904.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. Sold by C. E. Holton.

A CLEVER RUSSIAN.

He Found a Method of Beating His Persian Creditor.

In Persia, when a creditor fails to get his money in any other way, he appears in the debtor's house and sits down. Then he does not move away till the delinquent pays up. He enters the debtor's sleeping apartments, if possible, and has his meals brought in. A few years ago a Persian held an unsatisfied claim against the British government, and he presented himself before the British minister one day and camped out in his private office. The minister did not see the joke, and sent for a policeman. That made a lot of noise and trouble, and the Russian representative in Teheran evidently learned a lesson from it, for he managed a case of the same kind much differently.

The Persian who demanded money from the Russian (Count Kolomeisow) was a holy man, a dervish, and when he sat down in the Russian's anteroom to wait till the latter paid his disputed claim Count Kolomeisow knew that he could not get rid of him without much fuss and explanation. It is against the laws, or at least the custom, which is just as firm, to touch a creditor who takes this means of collecting money, so the count could not throw him out. He thought over the matter, and one morning he sent for a lot of masons. Then he ordered them to build a wall around the dervish, who was sitting in the middle of the room. The dervish watched them placidly at first, but when the wall grew and it became apparent that it would be completed soon he jumped over it, ran away and has not been seen since. They say that the count is the first man in Teheran who has beaten a creditor of this kind without recourse to the police.—New York Press.

DEEP SEA WATER.

At One Thousand Fathoms Its Pressure Is a Ton to the Square Inch.

When marine life began to command notice, the question of the depth to which life could extend divided scientific thought into warring camps. About 1840, it was generally believed that the bathymetrica limit was about 300 fathoms, and some strange ideas were current as to the physical condition of water when under a pressure such as a depth of two miles would produce. It was thought that skeletons of drowned men, or even heavy cannon and the "wedges of gold" that popular imagination places in the sea, floated at certain levels, beneath which is water so compressed as to be impenetrable. In fact, water is almost incompressible, and the weight of a cubic inch of it at the depth of a mile is very little more than at the surface, but it was assumed that no living being could survive a pressure which at 1,000 fathoms is about a ton to the square inch.

We ourselves live under a pressure of about 15 pounds per inch, and are unaware of it. Indeed we sometimes waken on a morning when the barometer has risen, say, half an inch during the night, and consequently find ourselves sustaining an increased pressure of several tons not only without suffering, but with a positive feeling of buoyancy and good spirits. On the other hand, if the tremendous pressure under which we live be relieved as by a surgical "cup," severe injury may follow. Aeronauts suffer from this cause, and marine animals dredged from great depth often reach the surface in a most lamentable condition, with eyes protruding and viscera distended.—Dr. C. M. Blackford, Jr., in North American Review.

Not Reassuring.

That an answer may be cheerful and yet far from reassuring is once more proved out of the mouth of a young Irishman.

He was acting as guide to a party of Americans who, in the course of a day's excursion during their visit to Ireland, were wandering over a picturesque, deserted castle.

"It seems very unsafe," said one of the party, as they groped and stumbled along a dark passage. "These floors are loose, I know."

"Yes," said another timid person, 'and I wish I could see the blue sky above me. This seems like a dungeon, not a ruin!"

"Is it the blue sky ye'd be seein, miss?" said the voice of the guide, some feet in advance. "Why, may the saints preserve ye for an innocent! It's the roof, an nowt else, that kapes the walls together, miss!"—Youth's Companion.

He Could Get Them.

When he was a Harvard student, the late Sherman Hoar became famous as a maker of epigrams. One evening he had been indulging in his usual style of conversation in the rooms of Professor D., a man after his own heart, but too apt to interlard his lectures with apparently original witticisms taken, after the manner of Moliere, wherever he found them. When Hoar and a fellow student had left the academic presence, the latter enthusiastically cried: "By Jove, Sherman, how do you manage it? I wish I could remember all the bright things you said just now."

"Go to D.'s lecture tomorrow and take notes," said Hoar. "You'll get them then."—Exchange.

Poison Parts of Snakes.

All poisonous serpents have movable fangs, which are found in the upper jaw, and when not in use close up like the blade of a penknife.

At the base of every poison fang there are numerous germs of others, and the fang, if broken or lost, is replaced in a few weeks by the growth of another.

Three things too much and three too little are pernicious to man—to speak much and know little, to spend much and have little, to presume much and be worth little.—Cervantes.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver is inactive you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good alterative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at C. E. Holton's drug store. 50 cents per bottle.

When a Boy Goes Skating

He is Bound to Have Skates

but it doesn't matter where else he goes, he never looks well without clothes.

"And they do say" that the Mrs. Jane Hopkins Make is the best fitting, nicest appearing, longest wearing—(and one little boy in confidence to his playmate said: They are the warmest clothes that I have ever had. Mama says she is going to buy them all the time, because they are All Wool.)

Suits in ages from 3 to 16. Styles: Reefer, Middy, Sailor or Double Breast. Pants double seat and double knee, with seams all taped—you can't rip them and the buttons won't come off. For sale exclusively by

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

O. C. Wysong went to Mebane at noon.

Hon. Thomas Settle left at noon for Washington.

June B. Stroud returned from Burlington at noon.

There will be no services at St. Agnes Catholic church tomorrow.

Imported perfumery advertised today by Howard Gardner the corner druggist.

W. G. Crutchfield, of Salisbury, came up at noon to spend Sunday with his family.

John B. Fariss, druggist, advertises sterling silver novelties for Christmas, in this paper today.

Misses Nannie Lee Smith and Lucy Jones will leave tonight for Reidsville to spend Sunday with friends.

Pretty girls, in pretty costumes, selling pretty Christmas gifts, will be the feature of the holiday bazaar.

Be sure and see the Old Curiosity Shop which Mr. Clarence Bogart will conduct at the Holiday Bazaar.

Rev. T. A. Smoot will preach at West Washington street Baptist churcd Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. No night service.

Dr. W. P. Few, one of the faculty of Trinity College, Durham, passed through at noon today going to Guilford College, where he lectures tonight.

Mrs. E. P. Wharton returned this morning from Baltimore where she has been under treatment in a hospital. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that her health is much improved.

Miss Ollie Guerrant, a lovely young lady of Danville, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. N. Longest, on Blandwood avenue, returned home at noon today, to the regret of her many friends here.

Rev. T. J. Ogburn, secretary and treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions, Methodist Protestant church, will preach in Grace church tomorrow tomorrow morning and evening, Mr. Ogburn has many admirers in this city, and no doubt large congregations will hear him.

Will Walker, colored, was locked up by Officer Pearce last night, charged with the theft of a coat. Will is employed in one of our tailor shops and sells second hand clothing. He says he bought the coat from a colored boy on the street last night. He asked that he be tried before court adjourns so that, if he has to go to the roads, he can be there in cold weather.

Academy of Music.

Every one will get a chance to take their family to an enjoyable entertainment next week at prices to suit all pockets. The popular prices, 10, 20, and 30 cents are within the reach of all. Bring your mothers, wives, sweethearts and sisters. There is every belief that the company will do a very large business. For two years this company has never left the south, and never lost a day. Summer or winter, it's all the same. No play will be repeated during the engagement, no matter how popular it may be. Eight of the best in the repertoire are to be produced. Come Monday night and see Miss Beldeni make a real horse shoe at a blacksmith forge. The attraction is highly endorsed by press of such cities as Atlanta, Nashville, etc.

This Is Great.

In this day of surprises and wonders, S. B. Norris, of the Carolina Shoe Company, is doing his part in the merry procession. If you have not visited his store since the great removal sale began you have missed one of the greatest surprises of the season. Think of a three dollar shoe for one dollar and a half! And there is no fake about it. All are genuine, first class, solid goods. Read his big ad on third page of this paper.

Baby shoes, no heels and spring heels, 40, 50, 65 and 75c a pair, at Thacker & Brockmann's, positively the best little shoes for the price ever shown in this town.

Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c. The genuine has L. B. Q. on each tablet.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The Meeting Last night—Business Transacted.

A regular meeting of the board of Aldermen was held last night, Mayor Taylor in the chair.

The firemen's committee, to whom was referred the resignation of chief Stone, reported that Mr. Stone insisted on the acceptance of his resignation, and the board accepted the same. W. R. Pleasants, assistant chief, will perform the duties of chief.

The board next took up the selection of an alderman to succeed G. H. McKinney, resigned. The names of J. M. Walker, C. B. Wilson and J. Y. Joyner were placed in nomination. Mr. J. M. Walker, having received the highest number of votes, was declared elected.

Board adjourned.

The Mocking Bird.

De mockin'bird done fol' his wing
En hide away fum snow;
Yo ain't a-gwine ter heah him sing:
De weather freez him so!

He say: "I'll keep my music
Ontell de roses grow;
I fol' my wing: I des won't sing
'Twell sunshine clear de snow.

"My chillun, dey done flewed away,
Though I been love 'em so;
Dey gone ter whar de springtime stay,
En lef' me in de snow!

"En so, I'll keep my music
While all de blizzards blow;
You ain't a-gwine to heah me sing
In dis heah sleet en snow!"

BROWN'S.

"THE GOOD LORD

has always a way to provide for the poor," was the cheerful remark of a good hearted preacher a few days ago, and after closely examining each and every article at the great manufacturers' sale of clothing, and while removing his spectacles, approached the proprietor in his solemn way and said: "You, stranger, are the instrument of Providence sent to the community of Greensboro," and since we have seen the hundreds aud hundreds of poor clad people block our doors and carry out the best clothing at prices that even the cheapest kind can not be bought here in town, we began to think of the divine man's words.

It is time for you all to follow the example,

Our Stay is Short,

and if you don't come in time you won't find our goods, and that means paying the old high prices for your clothing again. Save your money and come to the

McAdoo Building,

Corner East Market and Davie Streets.
